BLAINE STEPS DOWN.

HE RESIGNS FROM THE HARRI-SON CABINET.

ACCEPTED. RESIGNATION

The Receipt of the News Creates the Wildact Kind of Excitement at Minneapelis_Congressman Boutelle Declares That the Maine Leader Will Certainly Accept-Gossip at Minneapolis.

WASHINGTON, June 4.-Secretary Blaine this afternoon tendered his resignation as secretary of state to President Harrison. The letter of resignation and the president's acceptance of the same are as follows:

DEPARTMENT OF STATE, Washington, June 4, 1892.

To the President: I respectfully beg leave to submit my resignation of the office of secretary of state of the United States, to which I was appointed by you on the 5th of March,

The condition of public business in the department of state justifies me in requesting my resignation may be accepted immediately.

I have the honor to be, very respectfull y, Your obedient servant,

JAMES G. BLAINE

Executive Mansion, Washington, June 4. 7 To the Secretary of State: Your letter the office of Secretary of State of the United States of this date tendering your resignation of ceived. The terms on which you state your desires are such as to leave me no choice but to accede to your wish immediately. Your resignation is therefore accepted. Very respectfully yours, BENJAMIN HARRISON, The Hon. JAMES G. BLAINE.

AT MINNEAPOLIS.

The Receipt of the News Causes Wild Excitement.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., June 4.-The news that Secretary Blaine had resigned and his resignation been accepted by the president created the wildest excitement here. The Blaine men went greeted the announcement in the West hotel. Clarkson Platt. Fassett and the score of other Blaine boomers insist that this means Blaine's omination on the first ballot and there really appears to be a Blaine stampede amongst delegates and others.

The Harrison managers for the first time have lost their serenity. R. R. Shiel, an Indiana delegate and one of the Harrison managers, addressing an audience of newspaper men in the west lobby, said: "It makes no difference if Blaine has resigned. Let him resign; he cannot stop it. We have got the delegates to nominate Ben Harrison and we will do it. We don't care for Blaine. We have no fight against him, but we are going to nominate Harrison whether he is in the race or not."

At this moment there was a wild cheer from the northwest corner of the hotel. "It is true," shouted a Blaine man, "the Associated press dispatches say that Blaine has resigned and Harrison has accepted the resignation. Hurrah for Blaine."

The cheer for Blaine re-echoed through the corridors and was taken in the street. In a minute the strets ere wild with excitement. Men marched in squads up and down the streets, yelling "Blaine, Blaine, James Blaine." The Harrison men were sered by the excited Blaine men and wo or three personal encounters were harrowly averted. Blaine Leaders Stirred Up.

The Blaine men expect now to sweep verything before them. Loud cries or "Foraker," "Fassett" and others be being made by the excited throngs the are demanding speeches from the usy was a smile of exultation but he tas cool and unruffled. Clarkson, nger, Platt and others were in con Itation in full view of the crowd and ery burst of enthusiasm caused them o glance downward with complacent

"It's a whirlwind," said the distin-enark he vouchsafed.

The Harrison managers, General ohn C. New, Senator Hiscock, R. R. thiel and others, went into conference

The Blaine leaders say they have The whole public is now in their confidence. It is "Blaine, Blaine. He is the man to win," on every hand. A casual observer in Minneapolis at this time would suppose there was only one candidate in the field and that his name was James G. Blaine.
To-day the skirmish lines were thrown out, and when the various state delegations have taken their places on the field the battle will begin in earnest. Chairman Clackson, who has a little list of his own, put Harrison's strength as 298 to a man. In this he is less liberal than J. Sloat Fassett, who has counted up an even 300 as the outside strength, they are wary of making exact predictions, but insist he will be enthusiastically nominated on the first ballot. Platt More Confident Than Ever. The Platt train arrived to-day with a number of delegates, besides the New number of delegates, besides the New York and Delaware men, there being half a dozen West Virginians, E. M. Brayton of South Carolina and a few others. During the trip a call on Platt was made by the West Virginia delegates, who were in the sleeper next in front of his private car. He went over the situation with them frankly explaining all he knew and hoped. He told them he was sure of Blaine's acceptance. He last talked with Secretary Blaine and his wife last Monday, and both assured him that Blaine was never in better him that Blaine was never in better health. As a result of this conference the Platt party believe they will secure at least part of the delegation, one of the party-C. M. Hart-having given assurances of his support. Another of the West Virginia party, when asked as to the probable result of the confer-ence, said: "You know conversions are always in order."

When asked for a new statement of his views Platt said: "I have seen Mr. mad with enthusiasm and cheer after Blaine and have been in frequent comand feel sure that he will not say anything further now. He would have given his friends time to select some one as a candidate of the opposition to the renomination of Harrison, had he intended to speak again."

The Blaine Plan.

It is believed that Blaine will not be formally placed in nomination at all.

The plan is to allow the Harrison nominating and seconding speeches to pro-ceed without interruption, and then when the roll call begins, to have Alabama, Arkansas, Colorado and other leading states in the list cast the ma-jority of their vote for the popular leader. This, it is hoped, will create to the secretary of state and reballot. The Harrison people are working vigorously, however, with the delegates from the states that lead in the lphabetical list, and appear already to have assurances that Blaine will not get a unanimous vote from either Alabama or Arkansas. Indeed, in both these states the Harrison leaders claim a majority of the delegates are for the president, and as Alabama has contest-ing her delegates of both factions are just now very non-committal as to their presidential preferences.

Boutelle More Than Confident.

WASHINGTON, June 4.-Representative Boutelle of Maine left yesterday for Minneapolis, carrying with him the assurance that Blaine would accept if nominated. Just prior to his de-parture he had a brief but pointed in-terview with the secretary of state at the latter's house.

At the station, as he was about to take the train, Boutelle said with an earnestness that carried conviction with it: "I leave feeling as sure of Blaine's nomination as I am that the sun will rise to-morrow."

"And are you equally sure he will accept?" was asked.

'I am certain of it," said Mr. Boutelle slowly, and evidently weighing every word. "If I were not, what do you suppose I would be going to Min-

"Then there is no truth in the rumor that Blaine will write another letter?" "It hasn't a feather to stand on. Blaine will write no more letters, send no telegrams nor give any instructions to anybody to demand the withdrawal of his name or decline the nomination

"You are certain of that?"

"Absolutely."
"Well, did Mr. Blaine give you authority to make this statement?"

The question was evidently an em-barrassing one, but Mr. Boutelle saids "Just say that I am going to the convention with the lightest of hearts, confident not only of Mr. Blaine's pomination, but of his acceptance and his election."

TO OFFSET SCARE TACTICS.

The Blaine Men Determined Not to Have the Hayes Game Repeated.

WASHINGTON, June 4.-A telegram was received here this morning by a Blaine Republican, telling him to look out for a repetition of the tactics of 1876 when telegraphic bulletins were sent from here to the convention hall.

saying that Blaine was practically a dead man and that there was no possibility of his living more than a few months. Those dispatches had very much to do with the nomination of Rutherford B. Hayes.

What makes this particular anxiety of the Blaine people in Minneapolis the more significant is the fact that the man who sent the dispatches about Blaine's imminent demise in 1876 is here and is an active Harrison advocate. Blaine about three weeks before the convention sustained his famous sunstroke that was worked for all it was worth. If the dead racket is attempted in the Minneapolis convention, the Blaine men will send some balletins of their own.

EXCITEMENT AT CHICAGO.

The News of Blaine's Retirement Causes Varied Comments Among Leaders.

CHICAGO, June 4.-E.hmons Blaine left for Minneapolis to-night. He disappeared as completely as though the earth had swallowed him when the first whisper of the news of his father's action began to get abroad. No information concerning the son could be obtained either at his office or his residence.

There was much excitement in the crowded rotunda of the Grand Pacific at the reception of the intelligence from Washington. Hundreds of pollticians were in the apartment and in a moment all else was lost sight of.

"Such a thing was never before known in American politics," ex-claimed Chief Justice Harlan of the United states supreme court. The dis-tinguished jurist checked his astonishment and comments suddenly, how-ever, and refused to discuss the bearings of the matter in connection with the Minneapolis convention.
"It is too late! He should have done it before!" almost shouted the cele-brated Webster Flanagan, United States collector at El Paso, Tex., wim became famous with his convention query, "What are we here for if not N. A. ...... 13% 11% for the offices?"

TO SETTLE THE CONTESTS.

The National Committee Appoints Sub-Committees of Inquiry.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., June 4.—The national committee got together about noon and in about an hour and a quarter had completed its business. There was some skillful sparring, but no open fight between the administration and the anti-administration split on individual propositions so as not to make the fight in the national committee. The contests were referred to subcommittees, the national committee not having time to look into them as a body. A principal sub-committee of seven, consisting of Quay, New, Fessenden, Scott, Hansbrough, Hyde and Clayton was appointed to have charge of the cases from Georgia, Indiana Louisiana, Maryland, Mississippi, South Carolina and Texas. A special committee consisting of Brady of Virginia, Conger of Ohio and Filley of Missouri was given charge of the Alabama contest. The fight over the Utah seats will be looked into by market was a quiet one and prices only 16. Messes. Leland, Hobart and Warren. The fight in the Tennessee delegation was settled quickly and the threatened rupture prevented for the time being. Judge Murray appeared and stated that he was a resident of prices were quoted at Kansas City as sult in his nomination on the first Tennessee and had never changed his residence. This left no ground on which, under the usages of the com-mittee, a contest could be successfully maintained and it was therefore decided unanimously that Judge Murray was entitled to serve out his term as national committeeman.

PITTSBURG, Pa., June 4.-About 1 o'clock this morning an explosion of dynamite occurred at Kensington, in the house of J. K. Turner, a jeweler, by which two persons were killed instantly. They were: J. K. Turner, jeweler; Miss Emma Scheffer, of Emlenton. The wife and two children of Turner were badly injured.

That the house was blown up delib-erately seems certain, as Mr. Turner was never known to have dynamite in his dwelling or store. The explosion was of great force, breaking windows and doors at some distance.

A posse has been organized and is now endeavoring to find some clew to the fiend who caused the explosion.
